

Bachelor of Psychology (Honours) and Bachelor of Psychological Science Schedule

Schedule to the Awards and Graduation Policy.

Note: From Semester 1 2018, the Bachelor of Psychology (Honours) and its exit award: Bachelor of Psychological Science will be discontinued (no new intake). For students admitted to the Bachelor of Psychological Science in 2018 and beyond refer to the Bachelor \(240\) Awards and Programs Schedule. For students admitted to the Bachelor of Psychological Science (Honours) in 2018 and beyond, refer to the Bachelor Honours \(80\) Awards and Programs Schedule (TRIM: D14/218164).

Section 1 - Bachelor of Psychology (Honours)

Qualification for the Award

- (1) To qualify for the award of the Bachelor of Psychology (Honours), a student will satisfactorily complete a program of study, comprising of a total of 320 units of compulsory and elective courses at the 1000, 2000, 3000 and 4000 levels as approved by the Program and Course Approval Committee.
- (2) The Bachelor of Psychology (Honours) program is a four year program, however, only students deemed eligible under Clause 7 will be permitted to enrol in the final year of the program.
- (3) Students undertaking the Bachelor of Psychology (Honours) who have satisfied the requirements for the exit award of the Bachelor of Psychological Science may be permitted to exit with the Bachelor of Psychological Science.

Grading of the Award

- (4) The Bachelor of Psychology (Honours) will be graded with the class of honours determined in accordance with the Awards and Graduation Policy and based on the student's performance in the final (fourth) year of the program.
- (5) A student who successfully completes the final (fourth) year will be awarded graded honours based on their performance in all 4000 level courses. There shall be two three classes of graded honours:
 - a. Class I;
 - b. Class II, Division I;
 - c. Class II, Division II;
 - d. Class III.

Eligibility for Entry to the Final (Fourth) Year

- (6) Admission to the final year of the program is determined solely by academic merit.
- (7) To be eligible for entry into the final year of the Bachelor of Psychology (Honours), students must achieve the following minimum requirements:
 - a. successful completion of 240 units of compulsory and elective courses at the 1000, 2000, and 3000 level as approved by the Program and Course Approval Committee; and

- b. a minimum GPA of 5.0 over all 2000 and 3000 level PSYC coded courses and STAT2000. The GPA will be calculated as per the Grade Point Average \(GPA\) Calculation Procedure.

(8) In the event that the number of applications for admission to the final year of the Bachelor of Psychology exceeds the number of available places, the College Pro Vice-Chancellor, on the recommendation of the Head of School, School of Psychological Sciences, will determine which students will be permitted to enrol.

(9) Students who achieve a GPA of less than 5.0 will not proceed to the final (fourth) year. In such instances these students will be eligible to exit and graduate with a Bachelor of Psychological Science, provided they have qualified for admission to this award (refer to Clauses 10 to 12), unless the College Pro Vice-Chancellor, on the recommendation of the Head of School, School of Psychological Sciences, determines otherwise. The GPA will be calculated as per the Grade Point Average \(GPA\) Calculation Procedure.
