

Recruitment and Selection Guideline for the Appointment of Sessional Academic Staff

Section 1 - Introduction

(1) The University of Newcastle's (University) sessional academic staff play a significant role in contributing to the achievement of our strategic objectives, particularly our strong commitment to an exceptional student experience and our high quality innovative teaching and learning practices.

(2) This guideline should be read in partnership with the Talent, Recruitment and Appointment Procedure, which sets out the minimum selection process for the recruitment of sessional academic staff at the University. This guideline aims to build on the minimum requirement, to encourage Schools/Units to implement a best practice framework that ensures a quality assured, merit-based and consistent approach to the recruitment, selection and appointment of sessional academic staff.

(3) The following streamlined processes for sessional academic staff should not compromise the University's recruitment principles of merit, equity and diversity and fairness.

Section 2 - Audience

(4) Current and prospective University staff.

Section 3 - Identification of Vacancy or Need

(5) The decision to appoint sessional academic staff should be made by the Head of School/Unit, within the context of the workforce plan and budget of the School/Unit in consultation with Course Co-ordinator.

(6) Consideration of elements such as the types of duties, period of employment and hours required, staff profile and workload model will determine whether the position is suitable to be filled on a sessional academic basis.

Section 4 - Position Description Developed

(7) Once the need for a sessional academic staff member is confirmed, a position description should be developed for the purpose of clearly setting out the role responsibilities and typical activities.

(8) The position description will include selection criteria that outline the minimum skills, knowledge, experience and qualifications required for the role. The position description will be developed by the Hiring Manager and provided to the relevant Course Co-ordinator for review, who will be responsible for working with sessional academic staff. The position description must be approved by the Head of School (or delegate).

(9) A generic Position Description Template - Sessional Academic is attached to this guideline. This draft should be used by Schools/Units as a starting point for developing their own more specific sessional academic position description.

Section 5 - Recruitment Process

(10) To facilitate the filling of sessional roles at short notice, and to ensure a fair, transparent, merit-based and consistent approach, it is recommended that the School/Unit conducts an Expression of Interest (EOI) process to develop, maintain and refresh a register of suitable sessional academic appointees.

(11) The EOI process should be conducted annually (advertised both internally and externally) to ensure equity of employment opportunity, quality of sessional academic resources, relevance and currency.

(12) The EOI process should involve the following:

- a. The Hiring Manager completes a Sessional Academic EOI Request form and obtains Head of School approval. Once approved, the form is forwarded to the Recruitment Team in Human Resource Services.
- b. The Recruitment Team will coordinate a call for expressions of interest which is advertised both internally and externally to the University as determined by the Hiring Manager and the Recruitment Team.

It is recommended that the advertisement is placed at an appropriate time deemed by the School prior to the commencement of the relevant teaching period to allow adequate time for each appointed sessional academic to receive appropriate onboarding and orientation prior to the start of the teaching period.

- c. Applicants complete an online application form through the University's job vacancies page. This form specifically addresses the School's needs and selection criteria. The applicant must attach a copy of their CV.
- d. Once the EOI has closed, the Recruitment Team will provide the Hiring Manager (or nominee) with access to the applications in order for them to conduct the selection process.

Section 6 - Selection Process

(13) The Hiring Manager will coordinate the selection of sessional academic staff. The selection should be made in consultation with the relevant Course Co-ordinator (or delegate) and selection decisions must be approved by the Head of School.

(14) If the Hiring Manager has a financial, family or other close personal relationship with any appointee there is the potential for an actual or perceived conflict of interest. The Hiring Manager must adhere to the University's Conflicts of Interest policy (clauses 11 -15 Prejudicial Relationships) and the Code of Conduct before any appointment is made to ensure that there is no actual or perceived conflict of interest.

(15) The Hiring Manager is responsible for ensuring that all applicants deemed appointable are able to provide evidence of their proof of working rights. If the applicant cannot provide this then their application cannot be considered.

(16) Applicants are assessed against the following:

- a. Whether they hold the relevant qualifications; and
- b. How they meet the selection criteria; and
- c. Past teaching performance if they have previously worked in the employing College/Division.

(17) Where the applicant has not previously worked in the employing College/Division, it is necessary to conduct an informal interview to determine if the applicant is suitable for the role.

(18) A minimum of two referee checks must be undertaken for applicants not previously engaged as sessional academic staff in the employing area. The attached Sessional Academic Reference Check Template provides a guide for the types of questions that should be asked.

(19) Once the selection process is complete, all EOI applicants who are deemed appointable will be added to the School/Unit's sessional academic register which will be held for the academic year.

(20) While it is recommended that all appointments are made from the sessional academic register, circumstances such as lead-time, the availability of potential applicants for emergency situations such as illness, the failure to attract suitable candidates by the EOI or the scheduling of extra classes at short notice may mean that selection from the register is not always possible. In these circumstances the Head of School may use their discretion to appoint a suitable candidate not on the register. In this situation a CV, certified copies of qualifications and proof of working rights and two referee checks must be obtained. The position description should also be provided to the sessional academic staff member prior to an offer of employment.

(21) An appointee's application documentation should be retained at the School/Unit level for the duration of their employment and then destroyed after 2 years (unless required for purposes such as worker's compensation legal proceedings) or kept for eligibility purposes.

(22) Sessional academic staff who are currently teaching in the School/Unit do not need to reapply through the EOI each year. Instead the Head of School or delegate should undertake an appraisal of performance using College/School based metrics which should inform whether they remain on the School's sessional academic register.

Section 7 - Appointment Procedure

(23) The duties, working arrangements and remuneration of sessional academic staff must be in accordance with the University of Newcastle Academic Staff Enterprise Agreement 2018.

(24) A sessional academic appointment must be approved by the Head of School/Unit.

(25) An online appointment form is submitted to Human Resource Support Services by the Hiring Manager or nominee. A completed University Employment Pack, including certified copies of proof of working rights and qualifications is to be attached to all new sessional academic staff appointments.

(26) Where necessary, a completed New Working with Children Clearance Number Form will need to be submitted with the appointment paperwork. To determine whether a New Working with Children Clearance Number Form is required, please refer to the information at the top of the form.

(27) Once the appointment is confirmed by Human Resources, the Hiring Manager or delegate will provide a letter of offer (and timetable) which includes the duties required, the number of hours, the rate of pay for each class of duty required and a statement that any additional duties required during the term will be paid for.

(28) The Hiring Manager must ensure that the letter of offer is received and signed by the sessional academic before they commence employment with the University.

(29) The appointment procedure is outlined in the table below.
